Hi. Our bookings department received a consult request from Dr Akbar Khan MD billing 012138 of MEDICOR Cancer centre regarding a patient he tested with 'advanced proteomic testing' whose results, he felt, were consistent with acute leukaemia. He was requesting that we perform a bone marrow biopsy on this patient. The test is called ENOX2 and was done at the company ONCOblot in West lafayette IN. The patient has completely normal blood counts. This test is not validated and as an academic hematologist, I think I would have heard of such screening test. I think this is medically negligent of the physician to tell a patient that he suspects she has a serious BM cancer based on an unvalidated and unproven peripheral blood serum or plasma protein test. And medically negligent to recommend a BM biopsy. I worry that he has caused undue mental stress and worry to the patient (who likely paid for this test out of pocket). I think he should be reprimanded and his practice audited. Happy to provide you with the referral package that was sent to me. Yours Sincerely, Rena Buckstein
